Denver Botanic Gardens, 1007 York Street, Denver, 80206

The Plant Society Building is at the northwest corner of the Denver Botanic Gardens grounds east of the Japanese Tea House. Parking is located behind the greenhouse complex and the parking lot is accessed through the gate off York Street. The Plant Society Building entrance faces east and the building has wooden stairs and a ramp for wheelchair access. Please allow for handicap parking nearest the building. You can park in the DBG parking garage on the east side of York Street, but please allow extra time for the walk to the building.
